

Home Sweet Home

Visitors at the Classic Toy Museum in Burlingame, CA, take a nostalgic journey back to the battery-free days when Tinker Toys kept tiny hands busy, building blocks fed imaginations and cuddly toys were best friends. But why pay the admission when you can just go to your local children's boutique to reminisce? This fall, the cozy quarters of little ones' rooms are about to get even warmer with a treasure trove of simple, yet charming knick-knacks, toys and décor. From woodland creatures dressed in heirloom-quality materials to dolls as delightful as a trip to grandma's house, the latest crop of throwback goods prove that batteries are not required for fun.

—Angela Velasquez

1. Jammies by Hélène Lauré long john pajamas in a jar 2. JoJo Maman Bébé multi-colored knit blanket 3. Baby Abuelita singing plush dolls 4. Manhattan Toy stack-up toy 5. Milestone Baby cards 6. Hazel Village woodland plush dolls 7. Wooden tractor toy by Manny and Simon 8. Eeboo animal-themed block tower 9. Loralin Designs knit cat and dog 10. Wooden bobblers pull toy by Baby Baazaar 11. Keep Leaf house pillow 12. Spinning tree tops by Karl Zahn for Areaware.